.....GET A GOOD HORSE OR BURRO FOR AS LITTLE AS $ 125..... .

On April 8 and 9, 2006, the Bureau of Land Management-Eastern States (BLM-ES) will offer more than 80 young horses and a few burros for adoption at the Shale Knoll Arena in Annville, Pennsylvania. "There will be some exceptional horses from the Western ranges there, and you can adopt one for a minimal adoption fee starting at $125," said BLM-ES State Director Mike Nedd.

The animals will arrive on Friday, April 7, 2006, with viewing hours Friday between 10:00 a.m. and 5:00 p.m. The scheduled hours for the adoption are from 8:00 a.m. to 5:00 p.m. on Saturday, April 8, 2006, and 8:00 a.m. to noon, Sunday, April 9, 2006.

Once gentled, wild horses are often used for trail riding, dressage, hunter/jumper, and western events by people who have adopted them. Mustangs are noted for their endurance, sure-footedness and intelligence.

All animals available for adoption have been examined by a veterinarian, vaccinated, de-wormed, and blood-tested. Since the Adopt-A-Wild Horse & Burro Program began in 1973, more than 207,000 animals have been adopted.

Prospective adopters must have sturdy corrals, 20' x 20', at least 6 feet high for an adult horse and at least 5 feet high for burros and horses younger than 18 months, shelter, transportation, and the means of caring for the animals. Adopters must provide their own stock-type, step up trailer (ramps or split two-horse type trailers are not allowed). BLM-ES staff will sort, halter and load animals onto the adopters' trailers.

Adoptions will be by competitive bid, with an adoption fee of $125 per animal used as the starting adoption fee bid.

Applications to adopt will be reviewed Friday afternoon and Saturday. Adopters are encouraged to pre-qualify by calling 1-800-293-1781 before the adoption for information. Animals not adopted Saturday morning will be offered for the $125 adoption fee on a first-come basis that afternoon and Sunday.
